

From the Clinic Desk

by Mac Morris

In preparing for this column, there seem to be no pressing issues to discuss so I thought it might be interesting to talk about how we arrange things for each summer's Clinic. We start in December trying to get things lined up so that we can get registration materials to you by May 1st. Two things about this summer that you might want to remember is that Swimming will be moved to Wednesday at the request of the NCHSAA. The other important factor is that Clinic Registration for this summer will be $85 for those who do not pre-register. Those who pre-register will get a $60 rate. The Board voted on this last July because putting on the Clinic and Games only gets more expensive each year and we haven't raised the Clinic rate for almost 10 years.

Every year I look for ideas for clinicians. We have put surveys in the newsletter asking for suggestions but the few that get returned are for speakers who have been here in the past few years. This year a few of the sports organizations have been very helpful. Daniel Barrow gave me a list of possible speakers from the Football Coaches. Greg Grantham arranged for Don Showalter of USA Basketball to speak to the basketball coaches. Tim Healy of the soccer coaches got our soccer clinician and they have done this quite a few times. For the past two years, Hal Bagwell obtained the speakers for baseball and did a good job. Ed Duncan made the suggestion for the wrestling speakers. So with all of this help, making arrangements were considerably easier and I think we have a good lineup coming this summer. As of this writing, everything is done except for one football speaker and deciding on women's basketball.

On Monday, basketball will have Don Showalter, who was an outstanding coach before becoming full-time with USA Basketball. And in a case of blind luck, I contacted Ryan Odom of UMBC long before he pulled off the upset of the number one seed Virginia in the NCAA tournament. Frank Beasley of George Mason will be the wrestling clinician, having served on the N.C. State staff and having presented here before. Vic Schaefer of Mississippi State will be the women's basketball speaker and we know how good they have been in making it to the Final Four. Middle School Monday will also be presented.

Tuesday will bring Dick Cooke of Davidson, who ousted the Tarheels from the regionals last year and Andy Hallett of A. C. Flora High School, who has won 5 State Championships in South Carolina. For track, we have Mark Napier, former high school and college coach and Marvin Gibson of Clemson. Golf will be presented by Chris Haarlow of Precision Golf. Soccer coaches will have Mathes Mennell of UNC-Asheville as their presenter.

Wednesday will bring football and we have Bob Gaddis, a Hall of Fame coach in Indiana, along with Brian Lane of Clover, SC and David Diamont, a very successful 1-A coach in North Carolina. Softball will have Denny Throneburg, a high school coach from Illinois and Sharon Perkins, who is former head coach at Georgia Tech. For volleyball, we have Linda Hampton-Keith of NC State who has pumped life into their program. Tennis will be at UNC-G again with Jeff Trivette as the director. Swimming will be presented by Ashley Jahn of the University of Tennessee, recommended by her head coach who spoke at our Clinic previously. Chris Fox of Syracuse will conduct the cross country session. He was formerly on the staff at UNC and has made Syracuse a national power.

The membership of the NCCA changes by about one third each year so it is time to review policies regarding the All-Star games. All head coaches in basketball, football, and soccer need to read this column carefully because of the procedural changes we are making.

Coaches of All-Star players who are accepting or declining our invitation to play in our games will need to go online with their players to complete the acceptance form. We ask you to assist the player because we get far too many careless entry errors. Simply go to eastwestallstars.com and click on "Info for 2018 Players". Sports for which we have mailed invitations are then accessible. A speedy response is important to this office and the All-Star coaches so please be considerate and have your players commit or decline as soon as possible. The process is easy and quickly done. It is vitally important that you make sure your player understands the commitment he or she is making. Unless a player has a valid reason to withdraw after accepting, that player's coach will not be allowed to nominate the following year. Late withdrawals are the bane of our summer existence. Before accepting, please be certain that college summer school will not present a problem because an All-Star may only miss one All-Star function to attend classes. In other words, if a player cannot be here for essentially the entire event, he or she should decline.

All-Star players and their coaches will be sent links by text to online letters and other information starting this year. In past years we've sent almost 800 letters to players and coaches and many are returned as undeliverable, are not read, are lost, or are not shared with parents and other interested parties. Email is no longer a reliable route to contact players so we're moving to texting. We'll set up a dedicated phone number for All-Stars, parents, and coaches. I've discussed this extensively with Ms. Jones, who is our Office Manager and the person who has to sort out all our correspondence, All-Star coaches, and others who believe this will be the most effective way to reach folks.

As the head coach of an All-Star, you will still be our guest at Sunday night's All-Star Banquet. We are a coaches' organization so this ticket is not transferrable. Only a player's head coach is invited and if he or she resigns or changes jobs the ticket is still his or hers. After all, he or she was the player's head coach.

Basketball, football, and soccer coaches who wish to nominate players must be a member of the NCCA. Nominating is a privilege of membership. Associates may nominate but need to have their athletic directors or another NCCA member head coach in that sport support the nomination by email or writing to me. We set deadlines and publish them in the NCCA Directory and they will be added online for next year.

Wrapping up the football portion on Thursday will be Jim Donnan, former head coach at Georgia and a long time friend of football in North Carolina. He brings a wealth of experience to our coaches.

There is a list of motel rates in this newsletter. I know it's a little early, but hold on to it for later.

To Coaches of 2018 All-Stars

As we move to texting, rather than mailing notifications to this year's All-Stars, you may want to alert your player that we will be texting him or her in May, if not earlier. Players or their families can always contact us at 336-379-9095 or ncca@nccaoch.org if they have any questions.

Emails to the NCCA Office

As it is with many of you, we get tons of junk email. We leave all screening filters OFF so your messages can reach us easily; but this also allows everything else through. To help ensure that your email stands out from the 500-600 junk pieces arriving daily, please use your subject line to clearly identify yourself and/or the content of your message. Hearing from you is important to us.

The NC Boys and SC Girls win at the Carolinas Classic All-Star Basketball Games in Wilmington

You could feel the air of excitement in Wilmington as 40 of the top high school senior basketball players from North Carolina and South Carolina gathered at John T. Hoggard High School to take part in the 20th Annual Carolinas Classic All Star Basketball Games and put the long-standing state rivalry to rest.

House of Raeford Farms, through the company's non-profit arm, House of Raeford Farms FLOCK, sponsored the two-day event during which student athletes participated in community service events and faced off on the basketball court.

It was standing room only as the girls' and boys' teams went head-to-head Saturday evening. North Carolina took home the win for the boys' game, 123-108, while the South Carolina girls were victorious, 76-70.

Bluffton, South Carolina's Jermaine Patterson on the boys' team dominated with 32 points. Patterson's points total is the second most in Carolinas Classic history. The Queens University of Charlotte recruit hit four three-pointers during the game. As for the girls, Quin Byrd secured 14 points, while D'Asia Gregg and Amari Young walked away with 13, proving themselves to be a significant force behind the South Carolina win.

Off the court, players took part in a visit to the children's hospital and physical rehabilitation facility at New Hanover Regional Medical Center, hosted basketball clinics at the Brigade Boys & Girls Club and the Community Boys & Girls Club, and visited four New Hanover County elementary schools.

House of Raeford Farms FLOCK wrapped the tournament by donating $25,000, including all revenue from ticket sales, to the New Hanover Regional Medical Center Foundation to benefit the Betty H. Cameron Women and Children's Hospital.

A special thanks from the NCCA goes to Steve Robinson for making the initial contact with The House of Raeford. Greg Grantham then took it and ran and deserves the lion's share of the credit for acting as our main contact with the sponsor as well as for all the work he did in Wilmington. It's tough to run a game from 200 miles away and Greg and Brett Queen certainly carried the day. Brett hosted the practices and games at Hoggard High School and, with Greg, did the remainder of the legwork needed to be done in Wilmington. Tom Teachey with The House of Raeford/Flock Foundation was by far the most hands on sponsor we have had. These men deserve a thank-you from all our basketball coaches, because without their efforts; we had lost our games.

JOE'S CORNER

by Joe Franks

I think the number one item that we need to publicize for this summer is the Clinic fee increase for 2018. Preregistration increased to $60.00 ($5 increase) and any postmarked after July 1 and on-site registration is $85.00 ($10 increase). You know, this is the first increase since 2005 and we all know how prices for things have increased over the past 13 years. I still feel that our Clinic is the best bargain around – and over 7800 agreed in 2017!

This year's Clinic should be another outstanding week. If you were a member in 2017-18, make sure you are looking for the preregistration materials in early May. If you do not receive the materials by May 20 – contact our office! Please don't wait until late June to call and tell us you did not receive it.

I know Phil Weaver will tell you about this, but I'm really impressed with how the NC Basketball Coaches Association and particularly Greg Grantham came together to help us save the NC/SC All-Star Basketball Game after the sponsor in South Carolina backed out. The House of Raeford FLOCK folks were fantastic as the sponsor. The event was held at Hoggard HS in Wilmington and Brett Queen did a super job hosting the event. You know, it's this kind of cooperation and initiative that really demonstrates how we as coaches step up to the plate to make things happen.

It reminded me of a few years ago at the Clinic when one of our Softball clinicians couldn't fly in because of weather issues and coaches from the Softball Coaches Association got together and pulled off a great morning session for our coaches. Speaking of the various associations in our state, we appreciate the suggestions for clinicians and in some cases, making the initial contact to see if they would like to come to Greensboro in July.

Thanks for all you do for young people in North Carolina. Let's continue to make the title "Coach" one that is respected and admired. In addition, as your representative on the NCHSAA Board, I welcome your input. My email is jfranks@nccoach.org

They Still Call Me “Coach”

Bill S. Slayton

NCC: WHAT SPORTS DID YOU COACH?

BS: Football, Baseball, Track, Wrestling, and Golf.

NCC: WHERE DID YOU COACH?

BS: Lenoir, N.C. City System; Southeast Guilford High School; Eastern Guilford High School.

NCC: HOW MANY YEARS DID YOU COACH?

BS: I coached for 29 years.

ARE YOU STILL INVOLVED IN COACHING AND/OR ATHLETICS?

BS: No

NCC: WHAT WAS YOUR MOST MEMORABLE COACHING EXPERIENCE?

BS: Since I couldn't narrow it down to one memory, here are the three most memorable:

Southeast Guilford High School had not been successful in football and baseball upon my arrival in 1964. I had to focus all of my attention on building these two sports programs.

During the 1968-1969 school year, reaching the state semi-finals in football in the fall and winning the State Baseball Championship in spring.

One of the most serious injuries a football player can endure happened to one of my players named Joe Horne early in my tenure at Southeast. He fractured his neck and had a spinal injury, but he survived and became a successful football and wrestling coach at Eastern Randolph High School.

NCC: WHAT PART OF COACHING WAS THE MOST REWARDING FOR YOU?

I grew up in the small town of Granite Falls, N. C. and attended Granite Falls High School, lettering in football and baseball. After high school, I enlisted in the U.S. Air Force and served for four years during the Korean War. I was a flight engineer and became a staff sergeant. After service, I attended Appalachian State University and earned a B.S. and Master's degree in education. I also played baseball for four years while I was there.

After serving for 34 years as a coach and teacher, I retired in 1992. My wife and I traveled extensively throughout the West. Following retirement, for quite some time I have trained some college and professional athletes.

My interests have always been weight training and fitness. I began working with weights in the early 1960's and

I still weight train today.

In 2015, I was honored to be inducted into two county Sports Halls of Fame—Guilford County and Caldwell County, my hometown. I have also been honored by having the football stadium at Southeast Guilford named for me.

I enjoy keeping in touch with many of my former players and advising them whenever they seek my help.

BS: The most rewarding part of coaching for me is that some of my players in all of the sports I coached became successful coaches themselves. Others became successful business and professional men and made outstanding contributions to society.

NCC: WHY DID YOU GO INTO COACHING?

BS: I had always been involved in athletics in high school. After returning home from four years in the U.S. Air Force serving as a flight engineer, I wanted to pursue my education and coaching and teaching were my ambitions.

NCC: WHAT IS YOUR FUNNIEST COACHING MEMORY?

BS: I was coaching a summer league baseball team and one of my coaching friends was umpiring behind the plate for us. He took off his cap and started to scratch his head and one of the fans in the bleachers yelled out, "Watch out Blue, you will get splinters in your fingers!"

NCC: WHAT WAS YOUR MOST EMBARRASSING COACHING MOMENT?

BS: During a football game we were having a problem with one of our players carrying out his blocking assignments. I approached my line coach and a player was standing beside him. I proceeded to chew this player out for not performing his assignments. He then quietly said to me, "Coach, I haven't been in the game yet." Talk about being embarrassed!

NCC: WHAT WAS YOUR FAVORITE PLAY OR STRATEGY?

BS: In football, my favorite strategy on offense was ball control, a running game with blocking resulting in a score.

NCC: WHO WERE THE TOUGHEST TEAMS YOU COACHED AGAINST?

BS: Of the football teams we competed against, the following coaches had the toughest teams: Coach C. K. Siler's football teams at Southern Guilford High School, Coach Richard Kemp at Ragsdale High School, Coach Doug Henderson at Western Guilford High School, Coach Fred Brady at Eastern Alamance High School, Coach Walkie Hanford at Southern Alamance High School, and later on a young coach at Southern Alamance, Sam Story. Other coaches whom I did not compete against but had great respect for included coaches Jim Stout at Western Alamance and Marion Kirby at Page High School. In baseball, the toughest teams were coached by Coaches Bob Boles at Northeast Guilford High School and Sandy Gann at Northwest Guilford High School.

NCC: WHAT CHANGES WOULD YOU MAKE TO THE CURRENT RULES IN YOUR SPORT?

BS: I am not familiar with many of the rules today since I have been out of coaching for a while. However, it appears that there is a tendency to focus on athletic conditioning and skill building in the off season. I disagree with this approach because it forces good all-around athletes to have to choose a particular sport as opposed to playing in several sports if they have the skills. It is also my understanding that spring practice is now a part of the high school football program. My concern in this area would be limiting contact and practice time.

NCC: WHAT ONE PIECE OF ADVICE WOULD YOU GIVE A BEGINNING COACH?

BS: Make sure that you know and realize the enormous amount of time you are away from home. Your mate (and/or family) should be aware before you even begin to coach.

NCC: WHAT ARE THE MOST IMPORTANT THINGS FOR YOUNG COACHES TO DO IN DEALING WITH:

BS: ATHLETES: They should hear from you what you expect of them as an athlete. Make sure they understand all of your rules. Be stern in expectations that you have of their behavior both on and off the field. Make sure that you emphasize the importance of their academics and check to make sure they are meeting classroom requirements.

PARENTS: In dealing with parents, make sure they know and understand your expectations for their child. Try your best to help parents understand that as a coach you must develop young players and prepare them for life as well as sports. At the same time, try and help parents understand that not all players possess equal abilities, and that it is your job to make decisions based on those who can best fit into your program.

Official Statistician and Digital Media Partner for North Carolina Coaches Association

ADMINISTRATORS: The principal in the school should know what you are trying achieve in your program(s). You should try to have a good rapport with the principal and let him/her know that you and your players are all trying to bring success to the school.

ATHLETIC DIRECTORS: My one piece of advice for working with the athletic director is the same identical advice that I have given for working with the principal.

OTHER COACHES: All of the coaches are striving to achieve success in their sport so try to recognize each of them and offer them help in any way.

THE PRESS/MEDIA: I had one of the best relationships in my coaching experience with the press. A young coach will benefit his/her program(s), the school, his/her players, and the community by keeping the press involved. Young coaches should take the time to get to know reporters. Call reporters for informal chats and other ways to keep them informed about your team(s) and what you are trying to achieve. Reporters are valuable assets. You must make this one of your top priorities.

NCC: WHAT DID/DOES THE NCCA MEAN TO YOU?

BS: I think it is an honor to be a member of the NCCA, having been a member for 54 years. The organization provides a voice for coaches throughout the state. When the NCCA holds clinics, coaches can learn valuable information they can use in their schools and apply directly to their programs. The NCCA-sponsored events provide unparalleled networking opportunities to share common experiences which will help address similar current and future challenges. The present staff continues to do a great job of maintaining the outstanding traditions of the organization.

NCC: OTHER COMMENTS YOU WOULD LIKE TO SHARE WITH OUR MEMBERS:

BS: My one goal in life was to be a positive influence on young people. I hope that the young coaches entering our profession today have the same energy, enthusiasm, and dedication to work toward that goal.

Q&A with the Staff

This is perhaps the last Q and A section for the newsletter. Please send us other questions you think need to be answered and we will continue this feature.

Q: Why aren't there any lacrosse speakers at the Clinic?

A: We tried lacrosse for several years and the numbers that attended wouldn't pay for the speakers so we decided to stop. The NCHSAA also found out that the rules for the next season wouldn't be finalized before the Clinic.

Q: Why can't first responders become members?

A: This is an organization of teacher/coaches and LAT'S who have done extensive training for their jobs. You can be certified as a first responder with as few as ten hours, so the Board of Directors decided that first responders could be Associates but not NCCA Members.

Q: Why can't I use a credit card to pay my clinic fee?

A: In order to do this we would have to have multiple credit card machines and the cost would be prohibitive; so we only accept cash and checks. The fees for the 2018 Clinic will be $60 pre-registration and $85 on site.

Q: Why aren't there more Division I football players in the All-Star game?

A: Most players report that either their academic advisor does not want them missing a week of classes, or their football coaches object to their missing workouts or risking injury. Interestingly, NC A&T's players have been encouraged to play and the Aggies have won 2 of the last 3 HBCU National Championships, so maybe more schools should rethink their positions.

Resolution to Promote Patriotism in High Schools in the United States

At the meeting of the National Organization of Coaches Association Directors on January 14, 2018 the following resolution was proposed and unanimously approved. ---
